

ARTICLES

Journal of Manor & Estate History

Deadline

February 15th.

Extent

The text should fill about 5 pages of 400 words.

Script

- The article is divided into subsections with distinct headings.
- Words or technical terms that are not generally known, should be explained the first time they are used.
- Quotations should be in double quotes (").
- Place a set of markings in the text, where an illustration inserted (example: III. 1)
- All abbreviations are written out in full ('for example', 'and so on', 'among other things').
- When listing of kings use Arabic numerals (King George 3.).
- For dates written, use British style with day with figures and month with letters and year with numbers, in that order. (3 January 2017).

References and notes

End notes will follow immediately after the article. List of literature are placed at the end.

For literature, list as follows: Surname, First name: Title, Place, Year.

Monographs and journals should be in italics, articles in double quotes:

Examples:

Monograph: Roussel, Aage (ed.): Danish castles and manor houses, Vol. 1-20, Copenhagen. 1963-68.

Article: Tonnes, Rikke: "Last flowering", in: John Erichsen and Mikkel Venborg Pedersen (eds.): The manor. Humasn - Society - Landscape - Buildings, Vol. 2, Copenhagen. 2005.

Photos

Each article may be illustrated with 5-6 illustrations / pictures to be sent in high resolution digital copies to the editor (that's me...).

- The photos must have a clear aesthetic quality.
- The motif should be easily accessible when looking at the picture.
- Each article begins with a full-page 'cover photo'. Consider which image may serve to present the full argument of the article

15 sep 20

ME

- Get your photos in as high resolution as possible. The file size must not be less 1Megabyte (1MB), otherwise the quality of the call when the image is printed. Full page images may not be under 2MB. Consider generally how large the images to be printed in relation to the original size. An image in original size is an old 24x36 mm slides of poor quality, for instance, not to be enlarged for printing.
- Copyright to the picture must be guaranteed.

To a limited extent Gammel Estrup can be helpful in obtain additional imagery or buy/obtain rights to images. This must be agreed with the editor as soon as possible.

Captions for illustrations

The captions should be lengthy and held in a narrative style. The captions should supplement or clarify (not repeat) the script.

Submission

Manuscript, captions and illustrations / pictures sent by email to Marie Kirstine Elkjær: me@gammelestrup.dk